

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The invention forms a graded modified layer in a substrate by exposing the substrate to hydrogen plasma. Methyl groups may be removed from carbon doped oxide in the substrate by the hydrogen plasma treatment. This may result in a stronger interface between the substrate and an etch stop layer on the substrate.